Hints and tips Just because you have the power to roam across two worlds, you may not always need to fight the giant bad guys. Instead of getting right in there, observe where you are, and follow the clues to your next destination. To explore the overworld, you will need to search with your Locator. In fact, it may be the best way to explore. You won't need to fight the heroes for long once you find out that some of the worlds are under their protection. If you're looking for another place to hang out, there are many different worlds with different characters to meet and talk to. Sometimes they offer a game of chess to play, other times they'll tell you about the history of their world. Talk to the townsfolk of the towns you visit and you may find a useful item, or a clue to lead you to another town. In the toughest dungeons you'll have to fight your way through powerful enemies. You can defeat these opponents by making use of your Locator and taking a small amount of damage.
