

A: Your $i gets set to zero every time a new file is found. Each time a file is read, $i gets set to zero, then the if statement evaluates to true, and increments $i by one. This will make it so that when you reach the end of the array, $i becomes 100. You need to make $i a global variable outside of the loop so that the value it gets set to doesn't change. Try this instead: foreach ($files as $file) { $file_name = $file; $file_ext = strtolower(pathinfo($file_name, PATHINFO_EXTENSION)); if (in_array($file_ext, $allowed_ext)) { $i = 0; } } And to make the $i variable global: $i = 0; WKNI-FM WKNI-FM is a radio station serving the Big Spring/Midland, Texas area.
