Key Macro technology will allow you to easily create macros for a given task. Use the same macro sequence you have often used before for faster and more efficient data entry in a variety of applications. Features: Supports Visual Basic 5.2 Macro projects can be created and saved to a database You can choose from a list of default hotkeys You can create your own custom hotkeys, with or without highlighting The hotkeys can be rebound, enabling you to run your own custom hotkeys Data fields can be defined within the database for specifying value ranges, such as dates, times, or number You can define dates for when to run macros As macros are being run, the associated fields of data are updated automatically A find function can be used to quickly identify text within a database Key Macro combines the power of key macros with the convenience of database technology. It helps you manage your data with ease and speed. Every day, millions of people use key macros to efficiently and quickly accomplish repetitive tasks. For example, you can use key macros to define a macro that executes a special text-copying routine. Then, you can simply paste the text into any new document without the need to open the original document and manually copy it to a new one. macroPro Key Macro will allow you to easily create macros for a given task. Use the same macro sequence you have often used before for faster and more efficient data entry in a variety of applications. You can define and customize any macro, with or without highlighting. Key Macro will then prompt you with a message if your change will take effect. You can also perform the macro right after you created it or even later. When you need to use the macro, just press the hotkey you defined for it and Key Macro will take care of the rest. Benefits: macroPro Key Macro is very easy to use, with a modern and intuitive interface and an intuitive file structure. Just create your macro and add it to the database. Choose from a list of default hotkeys, define your own hotkeys, or rebound keys as you need. You can even create your own custom hotkeys, with or without highlighting. When you define your macro and press a key to run it, Key Macro will alert you and prompt you if your change will take effect. You can also perform the macro right after you created it or even later. When you need to use the macro, simply press
