The Best Free Online Virtual Map Software for Beginners Free Virtual Map Maker Overview The Last Maps is a library of free software that can be used to create web-based mapping services. It was originally intended for specialized mappers, but the current version is more powerful than ever. The library is open source, which means that you are free to use it, distribute it, modify it, and do whatever you want with it. It is written entirely in the Lua programming language, which is a type of intermediate language. Map Bots You will also notice that the program has several modules that are related to virtual maps. In the future, the program will be expanded to include features such as route planners, multi-player games, and pathfinding. You can download the entire program from the GitHub repository at github.com/lastmaps/lastmaps. Map Bots are sub-programs of The Last Maps that allow you to play games in which two players create and navigate a map on a server. The maps are similar to server-based maps found on a number of video game websites. The game modes can include: Capture the Flag, King of the Hill, CTF-Death Match, and King of the Hill. There are maps for various types of games, such as a Super Mario Brothers level or an assortment of levels from the Half-Life series.
