Siddhartha (2015) is a 2015 Indian Hindi-language epic historical drama film directed by Siddharth Anand and based on the novel of the same name written by Hermann Hesse. It is a recreation of the life of Siddhartha Gautama and his time in ancient India. The film is set in the sixth century BC and follows the life of the prince Siddhartha, who renounced his princely life to become a wandering ascetic. The film stars Chitrashi Sharma, Rajkumar Rao, Huma Qureshi, Irrfan Khan, Nawazuddin Siddiqui and Raza Murad. It also stars two Canadian screen actors, Tannishtha Chatterjee and Raza Murad as Siddhartha's mother and teacher. Siddhartha marks the reunion of Chitrashi Sharma and Irrfan Khan, who co-starred together in Hindi films Khosla Ka Ghosla (2003) and Ishqiya (2005). The film was announced in January 2013 and it was officially launched in February 2013. It has been shot entirely in the Monsoon Capital of India, Varanasi. The film is distributed by Fox Star Studios. A prequel to the film, titled Monsoon: Mind of a Butterfly, was released on 21 August 2014, with Abhishek Kapoor, Chitrashi Sharma and Kiara Advani in lead roles. A sequel to the film was announced to be released on 6 May 2015, and is also known as Mind of a Butterfly. The film was acclaimed at the 67th National Film Awards in 2015. Plot In ancient India, a prince called Siddhartha lives in his palace with his wives and children. He is known by all as a very intelligent and kind-hearted man. While his wife and children live peacefully, Siddhartha lives a life full of rich pleasures, surrounded by beautiful women and rich food. One day, Siddhartha's half-brother Shatrughna arrives, asking for him to come with him. Siddhartha goes with him and they become best friends. After some time, Shatrughna informs Siddhartha that his father has died and he has inherited his kingdom. He also tells him that he has
