PPT to Flash Converter is an application created to convert Microsoft PowerPoint presentation files to Flash. There are two different ways to perform a conversion, either by using the main window of the application or by launching the wizard which guides you throughout the entire process. No matter which one you choose, PPT to Flash Converter works with PPT and PPTX files, both of which can be converted to Flash in a few easy steps. There are only a few configuration options, but all come in very handy because you can enable slide transition, convert both audio and video, use high quality, render effects and set up frame rate, advanced time and X and Y scale. PPT to Flash Converter isn't however the fastest app on Earth and it takes some time to convert large presentation files, with a moderate CPU usage experienced during our testing. On the good side, the program works with PowerPoint 2000, XP and 2003 and doesn't even require users to install a stand-alone Flash player to perform a conversion. Founded in 1993 by brothers Tom and David Gardner, The Motley Fool helps millions of people attain financial freedom through our website, podcasts, books, newspaper column, radio show, and premium investing services. 5 Reasons the Ticonderoga-Fall Line Could Be a Great Investment Since it's located in the heart of New York's wine country and the Ticonderoga-Fall Line gets full access to the tourist attractions of the nearby Lenox Mountain area, it could be a terrific resort property. The Ticonderoga-Fall Line (TFL) is located in Ticonderoga, New York, and includes a luxurious, 175-room hotel with spa, restaurants, bar, indoor and outdoor pools, a golf course, tennis courts, and easy access to New York City and other tourist attractions. The TFL is owned and operated by Boston-based Tapestry VLCC, a real estate investment trust. Investors who want to own a piece of the TFL now have a few opportunities to do so. The company is offering a private placement of $50 million at $2.50 per share. Below, we'll take a look at some of the best reasons to own shares of the TFL, and why we believe that investing in this property could be a great opportunity for investors. 1. It's located in New York's premier wine country Located in the heart of New
