screens become the windows on your life. Menu A break This break is brought to you because of me not wanting to upload another pic with the same face on it (I'm, of course, looking at myself in a mirror). If you catch it though, it's me, despite the different shades and eye colours. ? I think I'll have a good laugh to myself when I remember this one day! So, in the week off

I probably still have January and February to go – sigh) and to mentally prepare myself for the finals! I won't give into the daily stress of high-school (I mean, you can only take so much of “you're not good enough!” before you want to go crazy), but I can't cope with that stress alone – and with finals coming up, I'll need all the help I can get! Anyway, here's a few pictures from this past week – everything else that's happening around here is too good to not share!Resource Efficiency The design of the site

When I open any ruby file I don't have the ability to copy text from it to another program. Ctrl+A and Ctrl+C do not work at all, nor does the text selection handle. This used to work in the old 1.8.6 version but it doesn't work now with the latest 1.8.7. I am assuming this is a version thing but I couldn't find anything about it. Any ideas would be helpful.
