and music videos The simplest way to remove them is to use Ccleaner. This is a free tool to help remove/clean up various types of browser history and data stored on your PC. As a once-only scan, it clears out everything that can be found in your browser history and cookies, including: - Most Recent Web Pages - Sign-in and log-in sessions - Home and shopping lists - Bookmarks - Search history - Used bank and credit card information - Cookies - Forms, logins, passwords (accounts, forums, dating sites) - Cache - Web bugs and active content With Ccleaner, you are not removing any of this data - so if you do anything at all with this sensitive data, then an undelete tool will help you restore it. Ccleaner will make a hard copy of everything it finds for you, for easy restoration later. It will also tell you how many of your items it could not find, so you can decide if you want to find them, or just let it delete them, and then restore. With BYclouder iTunes File Recovery, you will easily and quickly perform a scan for the lost or missing files from iTunes database - these can be restored to the iTunes library even if the user decides to move or delete them from the library. First, select the media type that you want to save the iTunes database. Then select the "Choose a destination folder" and choose whether to restore iTunes library, Music Library or both. Finally, click "Scan iTunes." The scan process itself takes about a minute, so you can start your favorite music, videos, TV series and more right away. You can utilize the application at any time, as the scans are non-destructive. Notes:

BYclouder iTunes File

Recovery cannot recover the file types which are not supported by iTunes and other file recovery apps. If you need to save some data such as contacts, call history, video, audio, notes, 1Password, etc., we recommend you to use the best iTunes Backup Extractor. You can read related help below.
