A new widget has arrived in Yahoo! Widgets. It's called "Calendar." You can add a widget to your home page so that it's there all the time. And you can even combine several widgets into a single widget, so you can quickly change your home page into anything from a news page to a weather page. Oh, and did I mention that you can add a widget to your home page and have it update with the day's weather, whatever, and even the time? Fun with Yahoo! Widgets The only snag is that Yahoo! Widgets does not work with Internet Explorer 8. It may work with IE 7, but as far as I know, that's all I know.
