A writer for his Infowars site posted the interview Tuesday, saying it was conducted with the radio personality on Tuesday. The interview, on Infowars.com, is edited and heavily blacked out. Jones does not respond to the writer's questions. Jones, a "shock jock" whose show was taken off the air in early 2017 after advertisers abandoned him, was found guilty of felony fraud and ordered to pay more than $40,000 in fines. He appealed the ruling, claiming the FBI tipped off advertisers and was trying to frame him. The appeals court ruled against him. A New York judge had barred Jones from his previous host on three major networks, claiming the comments he made were "false and misleading" in the wake of the 2012 massacre at a Connecticut elementary school that left 26 people dead, including 20 children. Jones did not mention the shooting in his now-canceled show, instead condemning President Barack Obama for suggesting the 2012 attack may have been the work of "a hate group." ## What's New in the AutoCAD?

Streamlined design experience Unified Design Configurations: Now that Autodesk released the unified design configuration service, you can use one or more of your design configurations simultaneously. Design configurations are a set of layer, size, colour, and other design settings that you store in a central repository, and that you can access from anywhere in the product. The unified design configuration is a re-architecture of the configurable system that we introduced with the 20.1 release. It enables you to store, share, collaborate on, and use all your design configurations at once. (video: 5:10 min.) Enhanced Applications: Also this year, the Autodesk Apps service offers several enhancements to the applications that you've already built. You can now publish your applications to the App Store and sell your CAD designs more easily. Developers can add new features to their apps by distributing updates to their app via the iOS or Android app stores. You can also automatically update your apps from the new Autodesk Asset Store, which enables you to offer the latest app updates to your customers. (video: 4:15 min.) Vaporwave: Our more practical applications, for example, the AutoCAD and AutoCAD Architecture solutions, will also incorporate new features to enhance their utility. This includes an optional feature for designers to add alternate light sources, as well as a new keyboard shortcut to conveniently open the reference library. You can also work more efficiently with videos, music, and apps in the new Live Filters panel. (video: 7:25 min.) Autodesk® AutoCAD® Architecture® 2020 has a new interface and design experience that speeds up your workflow. The tabbed view will make your work even faster and more efficient.
