Total Downloader Crack + Download [Mac/Win]

Total Downloader is a freeware utility that can help you to download videos from the most popular websites, such as YouTube, Vimeo and Dailymotion, to your computer. Using the interface, you can either directly upload a URL or drag and drop the link to the program. It will only download the selected video automatically, or you can transfer it to your cellphone. It supports proxy sites. The feature allows you to pause the download in case one segment has a higher priority and resume it later. It can also be set to automatically pause the download when it reaches a certain percentage of completion. Moreover, it allows you to download only a part of the video, one or multiple files, select the start and end point of the download, as well as the highest speed your computer can use. To help you ensure that no virus attacks your computer, it integrates with your AV suite.
