Traffic Beat: The final day of spring break. There's a flooded section of the Sacramento River just west of the main channel, where firefighters said heavy rain and high water were keeping them at bay. 1 day of 2020-04-02: "I still remember the first time playing in front of my parents, the special feeling I had at that moment as a kid". Another is the Daily Telegraph's weekly poll, where we ask our readers to vote for the best film that they have seen so far this year. Iranians abroad in 2018. In the US, a family of three from China, a family of four from Hong Kong, and a family of five from the US were barred from boarding their flights because their visas expired. Many foreigners were missing last year for the same reason. Tehran's embassy in Washington was accused of covering up the issue, and the State Department said it was investigating. The United Nations' World Tourism Organisation had earlier said at least eight million. The UN's World Tourism Organisation had said visa problems were hurting travel to the Gulf this year. Hotel staff What does the job entail? The Associated Press said that it was told by hotel staff that Trump is often given an escort when he comes to the hotel. The president's use of his hotels for personal reasons, particularly his visits to Mar-a-Lago in Florida, and the government's temporary ban on travelers from several majority-Muslim nations arriving to the United States have raised concerns about the administration's motives. Trump denied Friday that the ban was intended to prevent Muslims from entering the United States. Critics such as Democratic presidential candidate Beto O'Rourke have said the ban amounts to ethnic discrimination and should be overturned. Trump and the White House have said the travel ban is necessary to protect national security and that they are working on a new, more "targeted" version of the ban that would apply to only countries with a history of terrorism. "We'd better change it," Al-Awadi said, explaining that he and other people at the hotel feel isolated from the rest of the world. Mellor, Missouri Mellor is an

Category: Indian film awards Q: Proof from first principles of the Ideals generated by $X^p - X$ for p a prime This is exercise 4.2.8 from Serre's "A course in Arithmetic" Chapter 2, if someone could give me a hint. Let p be a prime. Show that $\langle X^p - X \rangle = \langle \prod_{a \in \mathbb{Z}} (X - a) \rangle$ A: The following should give you a hint on how to continue: If n is a number satisfying $n^p = 1$, then n must be a power of 2 (why?). What does this tell you about X^n and X^{2^n} ? (For instance, what do they "look" like?) If n is a power of 2, what can you say about X^n and X^{n+1} ? (For instance, what do they "look like"?) You might also like to try to write out several different cases on paper and see what happens. A: I'm afraid it's not possible to complete the proof by "reduction to cases". $X^p - X$ is clearly central, so by Lagrange's theorem the order divides p , and thus divides $p-1$ since it's prime. Also it is a polynomial of degree $p-1$. It therefore has to split over \mathbb{F}_p as $X^p - X$ has the unique root 1. But, as an aside, we can do it by induction. Assume $X^p - X$ is the zero polynomial, then $\dots (X^p - X) \dots = 0$ so $X^{p-1} - 1$ divides $X^p - X$. But $X^{p-1} - 1$ is also a polynomial of degree $p-1$, and $X^p - X$ must split over \mathbb{F}_p as $X^p - X$ has the unique root 1. Note that $X^{p-1} - 1$ is not divisible by p . 1cb139a0ed
