I ran the xentry developer keygen keygen v1.1.0 and the software installed correctly and is operating normally. On the xentry developer v1.1.0 keys tab select the dates for the startkey and endkey for your number of users and click on update. After processing update, you will receive emails for the keys that will be generated. Yes, the expired keys do not work anymore. On the xentry developer v1.1.0 details tab, select the number of keys that you want to generate. Then click the button Generate Key. It should take about 30 seconds to process. Xentry startkey invalid for xentry developer V1.1.0 Nov 19, 2019 So I have run the xentry developer v1.1.0 and I did not receive an error. I do not understand the process for key generation. I use xentry developer v1.1.0, startdate 01/12/2015 and enddate 01/11/2017 and set appid: 252. I click generate key, it takes about 30 seconds, then I received an email. If I run the software, I can see xentry developer is activated. I then clicked the xentry developer tab and I have the one key and the two keys listed. I click to update the one key and I get an error. I cannot delete the one key, it is greyed out. I receive an email stating the error. I clicked on the details tab, I have one user activated. I click the button to update the one key and I receive an error, stating the xentry developer has expired. I cannot delete the one key, it is greyed out, I receive an email stating the error. I then go to the xentry developer tab and I see the two keys listed. I click the button to update the two keys. I receive an error, stating the xentry developer
