To evaluate the validity of sentinel lymph node biopsy (SLNB) for carcinoma of the vulva. Retrospective study. Detection rate and false-negative rate of sentinel lymph node biopsy. Sentinel lymph node biopsy was technically successful in all patients. The sensitivity, specificity, and negative predictive value were 0.93 (95% CI, 0.79 to 0.98), 0.83 (CI, 0.64 to 0.94), and 0.99 (CI, 0.95 to 1.00), respectively. Three patients had histologically positive nodes, and 1 had a false-negative SLNB. Histologic confirmation of SLNB was made during a second operation. Sentinel lymph node biopsy is a valid method for staging of patients with carcinoma of the vulva. The false-negative rate is no higher than with a standard inguinofemoral dissection.Earlier today, the Wikimedia Foundation was caught up in a minor scandal over the conspiracy-laden claims about burning Qurans and Obama's relationship with radical Islam.
