The best part is that unlike most of those other games in this genre, Zombie Assault 3D doesn't just put you in a sandbox and wait around for you to do stuff. You actually have to go out there and attack the zombies, puzzles and other challenges on your own. All-in-all, the game is fairly short, but it sure makes up for it in fun. The game is a great change of pace from your average slow-paced shooter. It also has some pretty nice graphics and sound. The only down side to the game is that it only has a few levels to play through. Don't let that deter you though, you'll still have a lot of fun with this game.
