Q: How to write in random lines from a text file I have a file, main.txt. It has lines of text, and I want to read it with Scanner and print the lines randomly. What I tried is something like this: try { FileReader fr = new FileReader("main.txt"); Scanner s = new Scanner(fr); while (s.hasNextLine()) { System.out.print(s.nextLine()); System.out.println(); } } catch (IOException e) { e.printStackTrace(); } But this is what I get: Exception in thread "main" java.util.InputMismatchException: Unexpected end of ZLIB input stream at java.util.Scanner.throwFor(Scanner.java:909) at java.util.Scanner.next(Scanner.java:1530) at java.util.Scanner.nextInt(Scanner.java:2160) at java.util.Scanner.nextInt(Scanner.java:2119) at Roms.main(Roms.java:23) What am I doing wrong? Thank you. A: You are trying to read a file-like object, so the Scanner is expecting a sequence of characters, but you are providing a string. Strings however have a length, so Scanner will call hasNext() repeatedly until it reaches the end of the string, and then throw an InputMismatchException as it can not figure out whether there is another line in the string or not. Use nextLine() instead, which will discard the rest of the string, and read the next line from the file. while (s.hasNext()) { System.out.print(s.nextLine()); System.out.println(); } A: Instead of s.nextLine() you must use s.next(); It will read the string up to the end of line. more details in the documentation here.
