Streaming Media Player is a Windows application that allows you to listen to your favorite online radio stations in an outstanding manner. If you're looking for a dedicated player to listen to your favorite online radio stations, Streaming Media Player will definitely be your first choice, as it offers an easy and fluid interface to make sure you don't get lost during playback. To start off with, Streaming Media Player adopts a very easy-to-use design that allows you to access all of its features by a single click. The main window for instance shows the name of the stream you're connected to, but also allows you to play, stop, start a new recording or mute the sound. What's more, the application comprises a remarkable collection of streams, all organized by country, genre, foreign language or network, so it's quite easy to find the one you like. Plus, there's a bookmark manager to save your favorite stations and listen to them at a later time with just a click. So, in terms of streaming radio, Streaming Media Player is remarkably simple and intuitive to use. In addition, the application offers a powerful "download album" option to help you save all the stations you've recorded and listen to them later offline or when offline, plus there's a dedicated tool to automatically update the streaming stations so you get the most recent music. In any case, you can also choose a specific audio format to encode the songs, while the option to do without the default sounds (and consequently the music label) is also available. Streaming Media Player also lets you apply a lot of audio effects and enjoy these in stereo separation, while there are also dedicated options to activate private channels, process the audio with faster and more powerful processing tools and so on. Finally, with all of these features and more, Streaming Media Player is a solid player for streaming online radio.

Streaming Media Player Features:

- Streams by country, genre, language or network
- Improved background audio playback
- Downloads and updates online radio stations
- Bookmark management
- Extra modes

Turbo Flv Player is a Windows application that's been designed to allow you to watch movies and shows in an outstanding manner. If you're looking for a video player that's designed to combine so many interesting features under a single interface, you won't find any application better than Turbo

Tune in to your favorite online radio stations from around the world with Portable Screamer Radio! Portable Screamer Radio is a powerful application designed to let you listen to your favorite online radio stations with ease. If there's something to be praised about Portable Screamer Radio, that is definitely the interface that adopts a very intuitive and uncluttered design to provide instant access to all of its features. The main window for instance shows the name of the stream you're connected to, but also allows you to play, stop, start a new recording or mute the sound. What's more, the application comprises a remarkable collection of streams, all organized by country, genre, foreign language or network, so it's quite easy to find the one you like. Plus, there's a bookmark manager to save your favorite stations and listen to them at a later time with just a click. With a dedicated tool to automatically update the streams and make sure all of them are working, Portable Screamer Radio provides an impressive audio quality, but this also depends on the overall speed of your Internet connection. In addition, you can enable multiple sound effects and apply stereo separation, while more settings are available under the dedicated options menu. Stream recording is as easy as pie because you only have to press the "Rec" button in the main window. But what's really special about this feature is the so-called "recording buffer" which uses the buffer to record a full song even if you hit the recording button while listening to it. All in all, Portable Screamer Radio is clearly a very powerful application that works flawlessly on all Windows versions and can be used on the go with minimum effort. Just copy all files on a removable drive and launch it without prior installation. Q: bash: how to trigger a command every time I log in I'm using Arch Linux (linuxmint (egdy-01)) I am trying to trigger a command that I installed on my custom linuxmint. I created a file /usr/bin/runtasksetup and I added a line to run the command to change some options. Everything is working fine but when I log in, the system does not want to run the command. when I call sudo -u r -c runtasksetup at log-in the command is called. I tried with autologin user name the users home directory /etc/profile where is it and how to do? A: I have a system that auto-runs a bash script on login. I use the following settings in my ~/.bashrc file (which is executed on login): if [ -x /usr/bin/bash ] && [ -w /usr/bin/bash ] && [ -f /etc/bashrc ]; then . /etc/bashrc
