As an Active Directory Photo management software application, CodeTwo Active Directory Photos allows you to add new pictures to the Active Directory. The program features an intuitive user interface, and resizes photos.Q: Adding a background to a div in css Basically, I am making a website and I want to keep my navigation bar on the top of the page (for background reasons). I have tried using the "background-color" in the topnav class but it gives a background around the entire page and not just the navigation bar. I have tried changing the colour of the navigation as well as changing the topnav class to be made up of only background and border-top but the problem then is that it puts the background through the div and onto the rest of the page. It is important that the background covers the entire page excluding the navigation bar and sidebar. My code: *{ margin: 0; padding: 0; } html{ height:100%; } body{ height:100%; min-height:100%; display:flex; align-items:center; justify-content:center; min-width:200px; max-width:1300px; background-image:url('../images/Light_slate.jpg'); background-size:cover; } .topnav{ background-color:black; border-top:5px solid white; border-top:5px solid #3F51B5; border-bottom:5px solid white; border-bottom:5px solid #3F51B5; margin: 0px; padding: 0px; display: flex; justify-content: center; flex-direction: row; align-items: center; top: 0; left: 0; position: fixed; } .topnav.title{ font-family:'Franklin
