“Real players, real match situations – that’s what FIFA offers,” says David Rutter, Executive Producer at EA SPORTS. “By utilising those movements, FIFA 22 offers closer ball flight, sharper ball control and the most realistic player movements.” “This is the first time that we’re using hyper-accurate live-player data as a game mechanic,” says Michel Plante, Director of Pro Team Soccer at EA SPORTS. “It allows us to provide the best player controls and most realistic ball flight in the history of the series.” Real Player Motion data for FIFA 22: PC specs: – 2x Intel Core i7 3930K – NVIDIA GTX 1080 – 4GB of RAM OS: – Windows 10 – 64-bit Windows The improved player models will result in more accurate player weights and improved animations, particularly at lower playing heights. FIFA 22 faces improved AI to better challenge players, while “FC” should make its return to the franchise as a new shooting style for their prolific goal-scorers. Players at all levels have seen their shares of improvements to their gameplay over FIFA 21 – and they’ve been even more of a focus for FIFA 22. FIFA 22 faces the most realistic player animations yet. It represents the progress of the technology we’ve been working on for the past couple of years, by combining thousands of hours of real-life player data in the most visible areas and distilling them into a more refined game experience. We’re also adjusting the speed and trajectory of the ball, so that it has more unpredictable movement on the pitch – potentially leading to more creative ways of playing the game. “The all-new ball physics delivers world-class ball movement and handling,” says Julian Tan, Head of Gameplay at EA SPORTS. “It’s a game-changer in our quest to create gameplay that is as authentic as possible.” FIFA 22 includes improvements to players’ shooting mechanics, which features improved shots and passing, more precise shooting and more intelligent positioning on the pitch, as well as improvements to the “Off the Ball” shot mechanics. “We’ve made real progress in the ‘

As the top-selling sports game franchise for a generation, FIFA is the game that truly lets you experience the world's greatest matches, teams, and player moves. But to play as the best, you need the ultimate FIFA license - the one that lets you play with the hottest athletes, coaches, and clubs of today. And that's what EA SPORTS FIFA 22 is all about. FIFA 22 EA SPORTS™ FIFA Ultimate Team As players compete for success in FIFA, they're choosing to play as their favourite teams and players that they personally can relate to. With the FIFA 22 Ultimate Team, players can collect, trade, and evolve more than 40 players from every club to suit their style of play. Every Ultimate Team has its own individual profile with hundreds of possible combinations, making it easy to unlock and manage over 2,000 official players from more than 500 teams across the globe. FIFA 22 Ultimate Team will bring all the best gameplay additions of the franchise to the pack. EA SPORTS™ FIFA 22 is a football game unlike any other. It's the only game that lets you create your own club from scratch, and it's the only game with hundreds of clubs to collect and play with. With FIFA Ultimate Team, you can put your real-life fantasy team together, and make it better. Powered by Football In FIFA 22, every challenge players face on the field is shaped by the game's familiar and intuitive Passing, Shooting, and Tackling systems. Players are more aware of their opponents' status. Stamina is better represented, and the ball feels more explosive and responsive. And there's no longer any need to juggle defensive and offensive positioning on the pitch, as the game's tactical options and Player Impact Engine gives you the freedom to make any decision any time. Season of Innovation The gameplay of FIFA has been reimagined, as the only football game with game-changing improvements across the game modes. Tactical improvements affect all players, from free kicks and corners to penalty kicks and cards. Pitch-side improvements affect pitch sizes, ball physics, player collision models, ball behaviour and player knock-downs. Player improvements affect a series of new skills and behaviours.
