HyperMotion Technology also sees the introduction of a number of new dribbling techniques, including a bouncing touch technique for the first time in the series, and moves that allow players to perform smooth, aerially advanced acrobatic moves with both the ball and their opponents, making them even more unpredictable. ""By analysing the real world data of our players during matches we were able to create football physics that are completely unique to the series", said Will Oliver, FIFA Lead Game Designer. "With the introduction of 'HyperMotion' Technology we've been able to evolve our game physics to make every player feel more human, more accurate and totally unique and reactive.", 386 (1997). M. G. Fifa 22 [Latest-2022]

Now, more than ever, you can literally build your dream team. An ever-expanding collection of players and teams gives you unique playing options from the classic shirt colours of this year's World Cup to the next-generation boots on the pitch. An improved and more in-depth Ultimate Team gives you more ways to build your perfect squad, including an expanded view of cards available from kits to in-game events. Instant Impact - Now you can customize every player on the pitch in the midst of any game. Adding a strike to a shot with any player gives you the potential to change the outcome of a game in an instant, and the Ultimate Team Draft tool makes finding the right mix of players easier than ever before. With all of these tactics at your disposal, you can outsmart your opponent while playing to your strengths! Next Generation Passing - Grab every ball in the most realistic game in history. See where the ball is going before it gets there with the most advanced AI in the franchise. In FIFA 22 Ultimate Team, you can analyse in real-time the pass, receiving, and offload positions, improving the pre-cinematic nature of the game and giving you a preview of how your teammates may react in all situations. Real Feel Dribbling & Skill - Feel the thrill of knocking the ball into the back of the net using the most immersive dribbling controls to ever be applied in a sports video game. FIFA's Smart Dribbling is now working in-game to make every goal feel unique and unpredictable - as well as to take into account how the ball is playing in the air, thanks to a new unique touch system. Players make sharper turns to control the ball while dribbling, giving players more control and flexibility in how they move on the pitch. Real Feel Stamina & Aggression - Feel the rush to regain your strength after every tackle, every sprint, and every laser-guided pass. Run faster with a new Sprint system that gives players more ways to accelerate or use the environment to pull away from opponents. With more ways to increase your physical stamina and increased resistance to fatigue, you can take more risks and make more plays. Ultimate Tactics - Get an expert tactical edge with real-time, interactive tactics. Using real-world tactics-based metrics like Dribbling, Moving Through Space, and Speed Ratio - all-new interactive tactics give you a way to improve your abilities at every stage of the game, from in training to club life.
