New We Care News: 18+ days later and we're still playing catch-up on drupal updates after the recent security release. For months, we were updating our listings by hand, as we tried to post the same content in our forums, blogs, and even public Facebook group. Unfortunately, since the last update, Drupal's modules have had over 120 bugs fixed and even if you're not an administrator, you have been experiencing problems. If you don't have time to wait for the scheduled update, we have you covered. Since everything is being posted right now, we have been reviewing the incident reports and we need to make a correction for our forums that some users don't receive their messages. If you don't receive any posts or private messages from us in our forums, it's due to the fact that we were heavily affected by this attack and your comments were posted in our private group and all posts were deleted. What to do if you didn't receive any updates? Since we don't know whether your messages were deleted or you just haven't received them, we suggest that you go to the forums or our website and check your pending messages. What to do if you still see outdated posts? If you still see outdated posts, even if we have corrected them, you can still revert or delete them. To do this, go to the community section of your user page, click on edit in the bottom right corner of the group's description or user page to access the discussion threads, and delete the ones you want to delete by checking the first box. If you still have
