In addition to the HyperMotion Technology, Fifa 22 Crack Mac also contains a number of enhancements that provide a deeper tactical experience for managers, including new tactics graphs, stats that now capture your true playing style and new pre-match formation setup screens. In this video, we take a look at the gameplay and in-depth changes coming to this year's edition of FIFA, and look at how EA Sports made playing the beautiful game even better: You can download EA Sports' Fifa 22 Free Download on PC, Xbox One or Playstation 4 from the PlayStation Store and Xbox Game Store. Playlist FIFA 22: gameplay breakdown Jordan Riley (EA Sports): Welcome to On Pitch Pass, the EA Sports FIFA YouTube channel that will take a look at the new features that FIFA 22 brings to the football world. You know, nothing makes us happier than making people understand the world of football through football. So today, we're going to break down exactly what's new in FIFA 22. Today, we're going to be looking at the new gameplay and tactics interface. Some of you may not like that, but you'll find everything you need to know about that in the gameplay and tactics section of this video. To get us started, I'm going to break down the new real-world player data that's included in the gameplay. Let's start with the real-world players, shall we? Ed Woodward (CEO, EA Sports): Right. So, the real-world players that we've implemented in FIFA 22 are 22 players from a recent game with high-intensity football, played with real-life motion capture suits. So it's with real data. So there's 22 real-world players that we've collected from a game, and those players are on the pitch from one of those games. So with the real-world players that we've got, we've collected tackle data, ball possession, and passes on and off the ball. So everything that you're seeing on the field, everything you're seeing on the pitch right now, we're using real-world motion capture data to power that. Jordan Riley (EA Sports): That's amazing. Ed Woodward (CEO, EA Sports): And it's just the start of the statistics that we've got in FIFA 22. Jordan Riley (EA Sports): Yeah. Yeah
