The improved physics model captures the motions of each player, ball, and move, while also enhancing collisions, wind and refuelling. The ball now responds more realistically, changing direction and movement when players on the pitch contact it, reacting to the movements of the player in possession, and evolving over time to reflect the impact of the player's directional pass. In addition to improving the look and feel of the ball and pitch, the changes also improve the accuracy of refereeing decisions. Te Reo Maori replaces a large portion of English language audio content. This includes the scores, commends and complaints from the match officials, and the commentary of the match officials. The soundtrack, or the music produced for the game, also makes its return, and has been crafted to reflect the number of sides on the pitch, the location of the game, and the league in which the game is played. This includes bringing together elements from distinct, major leagues and regions. Post-Match Analysis Features new contextual Post-Match Analysis "FIFA 22 introduces a number of features that allow players to identify and exploit the specific weaknesses of their opponents. Match strategies, ability usage, and team tactics can influence a game and the Player Scouting Report is a vital tool used by both sides in those discussions. "In FIFA, there's a heavy element of coaching that allows players to build a team, improve their skills, and gain additional experience through training and playing matches. In the next chapter of the Player Scouting Report, you'll be able to see detailed summaries that highlight the tactics, techniques and attributes of your opponent based on the tactics they've used in previous matches." "Here's an example of the reports you'll see, displaying comments from matches against your specific club. "Players such as Cristiano Ronaldo have a penchant for scoring spectacular goals, so the new goal streak and new goalscoring system in FIFA 22 allows you to see how many goals your player has scored throughout the course of the season." Roster Improvements Introduces 2,000 new official players "In order to help bring better coverage of the millions of players that exist in the game, we've introduced an updated roster. Over 2,000 authentic footballers are now fully licensed by the Premier League, Bundesliga, La Liga and Serie A
