Life Cover Protecting life has always been the driving force behind Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu. This year Deloitte Singapore embraced that commitment by launching Life Cover to extend the insurance coverages that are available to individuals and businesses, allowing them to continue their lives in the event of death. Situations that involve sudden death are complex. When sudden death occurs, financial and emotional losses for loved ones and business peers are significant. Life Cover provides a solution by connecting individuals and companies with financial protection in the event of death. The protection can be customized to accommodate specific needs, for example, the conditions of the deceased or the value of the individual or company. “The importance of life insurance is not lost on us,” says Alan Cheng, managing partner of Deloitte Insurance. “Individuals and companies require protection for the financial and emotional losses they can incur in the event of death, such as loss of income or loss of medical coverage. Deloitte Insurance has made provision for such situations.” Deloitte Life Cover offers a range of coverage options for individuals or families who want to protect their loved ones in the event of death. Options can be further customized to accommodate the needs of the deceased. “Deloitte Life Cover helps individuals in the event of sudden death of their parents,” says Jeremy Oi, partner of Deloitte Insurance. “We know that families want to continue living their lives in the event of a sudden death. We take care of the financial and emotional costs when our clients need it most.” Deloitte Insurance, which covers businesses, as well as individuals and families, has been in the life insurance business for almost 60 years. Deloitte Life Cover is open to both existing and new customers. For more information, visit: www.deloitelifecover.com.

Q: Why does Sublime Text 2 ignore my TextMate preferences in the Settings? I've been using Sublime Text 2 and to configure my copy, I mostly use the TextMate preferences. I was recently given a copy for an internship and it has a different interface, has no dropdown menus, but has a few other things I prefer. When I try to set TextMate preferences, it just kind of shrugs and keeps the previous values. I can't figure out how to change any of it. It's as if Sublime Text 2 isn't

The ethics of education: differentiating academic professionalism from professional professionalism. Although the issue of "ethics" has been considered by most educators to be an inessential and extraneous problem, this thinking has begun to change as schools of education offer courses in the ethics of teaching and learning. In this paper, we argue that the ethics of education should be distinguished from the ethics of professionals working within educational settings. The ethics of education should incorporate a discipline-specific ethics that is addressed to the research and practice of instructional design. An appropriate ethics of education would be one that recognizes the importance of professionals in education, while also helping to strengthen the professionalism of educators. The paper is framed by two controversial issues regarding ethics in the academy: the use of the concept of professionalism in the reemergence of the concept of academic professionalism, and the question of the role of the faculty advisor in the disciplinary process of college and university students.

In my experience, 4.5 (admittedly on top of some sand) is pretty similar to 3.5, although sometimes I find that 3.5 can get my foot in a little more easily on the bigger rocks. 6.5 is very similar to 4.5, and 7.0 is very similar to 6.5. I don't have furlongs in my sand, but I think the conditions would be similar. If you're climbing 5.6 at 4.5, I'd put more weight on the lead foot, or maybe take a divot in the other one to get a little more power under you. I know that in terms of furlongs (or meters) sand is considered soft and is more like climbing over sticky clay, but it is usually dense enough to not allow much of the pad to move freely, so it still feels like hard climbing. In other words, I don't think the sand is very sticky, but the weight prevents the pad from moving around. I've used a 7 on sand in some steep waterfalls without any trouble, so I'd consider that a 6. There might be some features that you can't move around because of the thickness, but just as you can roll around on hard features and slide by bushes in sand, you can slide around in sand too and still not be too trapped. adrianm 01-21-2012 06:53 AM Re: Sand - Is it harder than rock? The trick is not to take off your shoes and slide around
