I have no idea about it, but if i add border-color: #CCCCCC; to a div, then it works, because the border is transparent, right? How can i do it with c# code? Is it possible without CSS code? A: Apparently this is impossible, but i found the solution: Input.Opacity = 0.6; But this is not what i want to do. Kamala Harris has accused Donald Trump of a "very troubling pattern" of racial dog-whistling, following the president's warning of a "rising tide" of immigrants. In a thinly veiled reference to the billionaire Mr Trump's perceived appeal to white voters, the Democratic presidential candidate criticised the president for "sowing the seeds" of fear about the "browning of America". The comment, made to the New York Times, is the closest a candidate has come to directly addressing Mr Trump's remarks during the election campaign, in which he said a vote for Democrats was a vote for "invasion of drugs and crime". In an interview with the newspaper, Ms Harris argued that "Donald Trump has never had a race problem as a candidate or as president, but he has made one out of his own." "We can't keep on talking about the same dog-whistles over and over again," Ms Harris said, before accusing the president of a "very troubling pattern of racial dog-whistling". "What worries me about the dog-whistling is that it has a lot of credibility for people," she added. After "whitewashing", what will the state of American politics be like in 2020?
