

Top 5 Neighbourhoods in Riviera Maya

There's no doubt that Riviera Maya is one of the most beautiful places in Mexico. It's also a great place to live, with plenty of options for every lifestyle. Whether you're looking for an active lifestyle or a quiet one, there's a place in Riviera Maya to suit your needs.

Here are some of the best neighborhoods in Riviera Maya:

Playa del Carmen:

Playa del Carmen is one of the most popular destinations in Mexico, so it's no surprise that it has a lot of great neighborhoods. It's a bustling town with plenty of restaurants, bars, and shops—and it's definitely worth checking out.

Puerto Aventuras:

The town of Puerto Aventuras is a small community with a population of more than 6,000 people. It's the second largest population in the Solidaridad County; just behind Playa del Carmen. Puerto Aventuras has everything you could want in a gated community close to the beach: hotels, condos and custom homes.

Puerto Morelos:

The coastal town of Puerto Morelos is a popular vacation spot for those who love the beach. It's close to the Cancun International Airport, which makes it convenient for travelers who want to spend their vacation exploring other parts of Mexico and Central America. There are also plenty of accommodations in and around the village if you prefer to stay in a rental vacation property.

Cancun:

Cancun is one of the most popular tourist destinations in Mexico, which means it's also one of the most heavily developed areas. That means there's plenty of housing options for people who want to live there, including condos and apartments that are close to all the action but still quiet enough for families with kids.

Tulum:

Tulum is less crowded than Cancun and more laid-back—it's an ideal place for those who want a quieter lifestyle but still want access to great beaches and restaurants. Crime rates are incredibly low in this area—especially compared with other parts of Riviera Maya.
