for the past 6 years,
i have done my mba
at nalanda
university. i have completed it at the end of my 4th year.
i am not actually a
part of nalanda
group of companies
that has been set up
by the department
of commerce,
ministry of commerce and

---

industry. during my time here at nalanda, i have not seen much of the leadership
opportunities here.
there are a few
members of the
nalanda
management
association here
who are responsible for bringing in foreign talent. there
are also some companies in the city but nothing that

is really beyond that. i do not have an expectation of how to manage the business once i get back to india. it is more like that i have learnt the value of corporate entrepreneurship here. i have learnt the corporate entrepreneurship is not just about the business innovation and new product development. it is also about the value addition, customer service and marketing. before i joined nalanda university, i am not sure about the entrepreneurship culture in the corporate world. when i was doing my undergraduate education, i am not sure if there was an entrepreneurship culture in our batch. i guess we are more interested in business and

---

management
education.

moreover, most of
my classmates were
from the
engineering
background and i am not sure if they are very keen to join
the corporate world.
the most important
thing i learnt during my mba is that entrepreneurship is not just about taking

a risk. it is about marketing and value addition. starting a business is not easy. i have seen business students fail and ask for help from family and friends. it is not always easy to make the right decision, sometimes it is just a matter of luck. the most important thing is to do something that you are passionate about and that would be enough to sustain you in the long run.
